

MRS. MAYBRICK'S CONDITION.

An American gentleman who was permitted to visit Mrs. Maybrick in her cell this week, said to your correspondent to-day that the woman bears up well under the strain, though her physical condition is very weak.

Since the defeat and dispersal of the horde of Arab invaders-affairs are settling down into their normal condition of inactivity in Egypt. Orders for the dispatch of troops from England and Mediterranean stations has been countermanded. The victory will have the effect of strengthening England's hold upon the land despite the protests and threats of France and confirm public opinion in England in favor of that policy. Lord Salisbury declared that there shall be no loosening of the ties which circumstances make all the more binding.

PRUSSIA'S REPARATIONS.
In anticipation of an outbreak Russia has sent a large force on the frontier for any emergency. The sympathy displayed by the Russian Ambassador at Constantinople has created a strong pro-Russian feeling among the Macedonians and Russian troops would receive a hearty welcome and many recruits should they cross the frontier. ## QUAY CANNOT DICTATE.

OPEN OPPOSITION TO THE PENNSYLVANIA
REPUBLICAN LEADER.

The Hull-Larabee Fight Disturbing Iowa
Republicans—Scramble for Office in Da-

General Political Information.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 17.—To a Post-Dispatch reporter Congressman John Dalzell said to-day: "I don't know any more than you do about the alleged deal whereby Senator Quay agrees to turn over the next Legislature and all sorts of things in return for being left alone in State politics, but I do know that I was no party to any deal, and no party to any deal of any kind, and will not be a party to any deal to give Senator Quay what does not belong to him. No one is authorized to speak for me outside of myself as to what course of action I shall pursue in politics, and I do not intend to abandon the contest for the appointment of my nominee for Postmaster at Pittsburgh until President Harrison has refused to appoint him. This contest is not, in my judgment, one of men at all, but one of principle. No Republican representative from this district in all our previous history has been denied the right by a Republican administration to name the postmaster, and no reason that I know of exists why an exception should be made now, unless it is to be found in the dictation of Quay, to which I am not willing to yield. Mr. Wm. Flynn tells me that the statement that the opposition to McKean's appointment is to be withdrawn is, so far as he is concerned, and so far as he knows, untrue. Of course if Mr. Harrison sees fit to ignore me in this matter he can do so."

"Then what will you do?"

"Oh, well, that further along," said Dalzell. "The political and business partner of 'Chris Magee,' the Pittsburgh boss, who is contending with Quay for control of the State, came here and tried to win over some of his lieutenants, the Philadelphia press claiming that the Senator had accomplished this object, a statement now denied by Dalzell, also a Magee man."

Ohio Machine Work.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., August 17.—Hon. Fred W. Moore, Judge of the Cincinnati Superior Court, said to-day:

"Gov. Foraker, if elected Governor, will be Ohio's candidate to the Senate and there is no doubt of his election this fall. The talk of the German defection on account of Judge Moore tells a new story about the public reception tendered Mr. Halstead on his return from Europe. It was not as a 'grand spontaneous outpouring of the people,' while in fact it was a demand on Republican leaders all over the State to have a grand reception for the Governor. The Bill de Beck is an old character in Cincinnati who does nothing but get up meetings of no account. He Beck did not have time to get together to call for a public meeting to elect a new name for the electoral college, all in alphabetical arrangement taking care to use those in black-faced type of eminent professional and business men. When the call was published consternation prevailed in the Commercial Gazette office. Knowing de Beck's crankiness, Halstead was afraid of a dismal failure and an appeal was made to Gov. Foraker and his political friends to help out the reception. Some lively bustling went on and the Governor graciously consented, although de Beck and the Commercial had been denouncing him for months. All the Republican office-holders were instructed and every Republican club was ordered to turn out. No music hall was used. Halstead was flattered with the suggestion that he was to be the next Republican Senator. He accepted the nomination, not suspecting that it was offered him with a strong chain attached, merely to keep him from being in the party until Foraker is elected for a third time."

The Iowa Family Row.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Ia., August 17.—The intense bitterness existing between the Larabee and Hull factions of the Republican party in Iowa has been intensified rather than softened by the result of the State Convention. Nearly all the legislative candidates are yet to be nominated, and this feeling is certain to extend to them and will intensify the party struggle as the campaign progresses. Hull ascribes his defeat to Gov. Larabee, and in that he is to doubt correct for without Gov. Larabee's active opposition Hull would have been nominated. Larabee is to be elected, and he will take with him into retirement the scallock of the man who was Lieutenant Governor in 1886. The contest with him was a bitter one and did more than any other man to prevent his defeat. Larabee has taken up the cause of Senator Allison to take with him as he recedes from the public view behind his back. The Senator is too firmly grounded in the affections of the Iowa Republicans to permit himself to be disturbed by the Hull Governor's antics. On the other hand, the result of the Convention has given the friends of Hull renewed efforts in Allison's behalf, and wherever they have control of the County Convention they are endeavoring to elect him. The Hull County Convention was held to-day and that feeling was entirely expressed. Gath, Allison's friend, was nominated for State Senator and two farmers, both Allison men, were named for the House. A resolution was adopted with a burlesque recital of "The Republican Party," the faithful ally of Hon. W. B. Allison, the senior United States Senator for Iowa.

A Square Tariff Issue.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., August 17.—At the Democratic County Convention to-day the issue was a square and rather turbulent contest between the tariff reformers, led by Judge Blain, and the anti-reformers, led by Martin A. Franz. The latter had a large majority and secured two-thirds of the delegation to State Convention and would have got them all but for the fact that each ward and township named its own delegates. Franz's delegates for Governor, of this city is distinguished by the fact that the reformers after discussion asking the State Convention to take a stand for tariff reform and nominate a candidate in harmony with Democratic principles and also pledging the party to maintain its fight against the tariff and the way time ran, but the resolutions were defeated by an overwhelming majority.

Will Have a Walkover.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., August 17.—Gen. Allen's bitterest opponents admit to-day that he is almost absolutely certain of nomination. Telegrams of the most urgent character have been sent to his friends in the State and County asking him to allow his name to be presented for Governor. Those who are fighting Allen are found in the majority to secure more than thirty votes for any one candidate. It is true that all that is claimed for Alfred Dickey, who certainly leads all of Gen. Allen's other rivals. One thing is certain, however, and that is that Dickey's votes can be counted for Allen, and it would not be surprising to see him nominated on the first formal ballot. John Miller cannot be induced to enter the canvass. He is favorable to the nomination of Gen. Allen.

A Determined Mayor.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, O., August 17.—Yesterday the Common Council ran into the face of Mayor Mosby refusing to consent in the report of an official investigating committee recommending the removal of one member of the city Workmen's Board and the suspension of another for not only maladministration but for fraud in office. The Mayor had previously suspended these officials by taking the action of the Common Council and the action of the latter body yesterday reinstated these two men. To-day the Mayor very violently flew into the face of the Common Council by again issuing his order suspending these two men, proven guilty of corruption by a duly organized investigating committee. The Mayor has taken legal advice and has learned that he can appeal to the courts to do what the Common Council refused to do.

Scrambling for Office.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

YAKESBORO, Dak., August 17.—This State is undergoing a political campaign the like of which has never been known in territorial days. It is estimated that there are 100 candidates for the dozen State offices, all being Republicans. As the Democrats are overwhelmingly in the minority they are doing but little campaign work. The Republican party is split into factions. Senator C. C. Moody of Deadwood and R. L. Pettigrew of Sioux Falls are almost sure of election. There is but little opposition to them. J. E. Temple of Yankton, and C. T. McCoy of Aberdeen, are fighting for the place for representatives in Congress but they are having considerable opposition. The convention to nominate State officers will be held at Huron, on the 28th inst., composed of 400 delegates. Governor McMillen appears to have a clear field for re-election but candidates for other offices are so numerous that it is impossible to predict results.

The Farmer Convention.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

SIEMASCO, Dak., August 17.—The Farmer Convention next week will be a lively one. It may be exciting and possibly boiling. There is an erroneous impression abroad that during the last days of the Constitutional Convention there was considerable making for adoption or rejection by the State Convention. If there has been any effective plotting at Siemasco it will crop out at Fargo. There will be opposition to the constitution and no doubt to the Fargo ticket. The Fargo ticket shows any evidence of anti-constitution ideas of the doubtful kind there will be more weakness than strength in the Fargo ticket. There is an impression that there is a candidate for or understanding among certain candidates that will allow itself at Fargo.

Dakota County Conventions.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 17.—In thirty of the fifty counties the Republicans will hold their conventions next week. In only one of the counties held so far are the delegates alleged to be opposed to Gov. McMillen's nomination, while eight of those counties will vote for him. McMillen is fixed and there is no possibility of his being defeated. The way is not so clear for the congressional aspirants, because there are five for two places. The field is further complicated by the uncertainty of Mr. Mathews' place in the race. In the South no delegates have appeared for Congress but Messrs. Harter and Gamble. The indications at this time are favorable for the success of Judge Gifford.

Drawing the Line.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., August 17.—M. D. Harter of Mansfield, O., noted as a free trade manufacturer, will be Chairman of the Democratic State Convention at Dayton next week. "The campaign in Ohio," said Mr. Harter, "will be a severe reform platform this year. I will be the nominee for Governor, as he is the logical candidate." "As to James E. Campbell, the leading candidate for the nomination, Mr. Harter says his candidacy on a tariff-reform platform would be a roaring farce, as Campbell fought the Morrison bill in Congress and is a well-known protectionist."

The Berks County (Pa.) Fight.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

BRADFORD, Pa., August 17.—The Democratic County Committee met this afternoon at the Hotel Penn, and the occasion brought together representative Democrats from every section of Berks County. The friends of both sides in the judicial fight were hard at work. Judge Hagerman has been graciously consented, although de Beck and the Commercial had been denouncing him for months. All the Republican office-holders were instructed and every Republican club was ordered to turn out. No music hall was used. Halstead was flattered with the suggestion that he was to be the next Republican Senator. He accepted the nomination, not suspecting that it was offered him with a strong chain attached, merely to keep him from being in the party until Foraker is elected for a third time."

The Montana Senate.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

HELENA, Mont., August 17.—The resignation of Col. W. F. Sanders, attorney of the Northern Pacific Railway Co., is considered here as one of the first maneuvers in the contest for the United States Senate. The Colonel having long been regarded as a leader of the Republican party in Montana, and his resignation now a political declaration of his candidacy for the United States Senate.

An Indiscreet Girl Who Was Married Under an Assumed Name.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., August 17.—Last Christmas day a couple of young people came to the city of St. Louis. George F. Hayes, of the Episcopal Presbyterian Church in this city, and asked to be married. They had a license made to Thomas Henry and Minnie Dean, with residence given for both at Kansas City. The ceremony was performed and they went away happy. A few days ago the Rev. Mr. Hayes received a letter asking if he had married Thomas Henry and Minnie Dean. He answered that he had married Thomas Henry and Minnie Dean. A few days ago he was in Kansas City and investigated the matter. He found that the young people were of the best families in the city. About six weeks ago a young man dropped dead in the street of heart disease. As the marriage had been kept a secret all this time the young lady was left in a very embarrassing position, her certificate not being in her right name. He identified her and the paper so that she might not suffer for her indiscretion.

As It Should Be.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, Mo., August 17.—General prosperity reigns throughout Jasper County. Joplin's lead and zinc output for the week ending the 15th inst. was 11,000 tons, and it is reported to lead. Many miners will throw around the Main Street Bank this evening receiving cash for their week's work. It is an invariable custom for twelve years past. They nearly all own or rent nice houses, never care for strikes nor disturbances and are, as a body, intelligent, law-abiding citizens—a credit to Missouri.

Breakers Ahead.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., August 17.—Police Captain Harter suspended Patrolman Simon McKinstry last night, pending an investigation by the Police Commissioners, for being absent from his beat. The acting chief then immediately reinstated McKinstry, claiming that police captain had no power to suspend a patrolman or anyone else. All this shows that the police officials are not dwelling together in harmony. A lively little circus will be the result when the commissioners return.
